Stanislav Khramtsov

Professional Summary

I am Frontend Developer with more than 3 years of experience in React and Django development.

I developed an electronic document management system for my last workplace. In time I added HR and counterparties databases to this site and turned system into CRM. This system is constantly used by about 100 employees.

In 2022 I created scheduler webpage for a dental office without using third-party schedule libraries.

I have experience in developing static sites on HTML5+CSS3, Pug. I am learning new CSS features and plan to add SASS to my stack.

I read about Agile methodologies and would not mind joining an agile team.

In the future, I see myself as a Fullstack JS Developer. Next step for me is learning Next.js. I also plan to learn TypeScript.
